Dubai's 10 most fashionable places

mOre

Come midday on Friday and you'll be lucky to get a spot in the queue that's snaking towards the entrance of mOre at its locations in Al Murooj and Garhoud. Fresh after a long night of partying, it's the place for the night owls to savour a hearty eggs Benedict.

But just because the bold purple and dark wood ambience is casual, don't expect patrons to silently roll out in their jammies and flip-flops. Flirty summer dresses and Calvin Klein khakis are the unspoken dress code and big sunnies are a must to keep you shaded as the waiting queue moves at a snail's pace.

From organic breads to sinful mushroom risotto and crisp Caesar salads, the fussiest palate is easily satiated. And now keeping their guests' slim n' sexy needs in mind, the restaurant has introduced home-made ice cream that's fat and sugar-free so they can indulge, guilt-free.
