BURGER

Even pseudo-sophisticates with iPhones, laptops and lattes love burgers. So, buckling under irresistible pressure after four years of being silly, More Café introduced this Me Generation classic. The huge cheese-topped burger comes on a rye bread bun with the More logo scorched into it, and it arrives next to a three-tier stand festooned with civilised little pots of chopped lettuce, tomato, cucumber, caramelised onion, relish, mayo, dill pickle, coarse grain mustard. Forget what Burger King tells you, with More Café's build-your-own burger, you really can have it your way.

Verdict: The best self-build since IKEA – fantastic!
