More Café

Multiple locations

This modern café-cum-art gallery should satisfy all palates with its quality fodder. International fare livens up a selection of superb staples, with Indonesia, China, Thailand and New Zealand represented on the menu, alongside their lesser-known culinary counterparts of the Netherlands and South Africa. Comfy dining chairs and large tables cater for big groups of friends and families, and there's a relaxed, sociable vibe that's reflected in the food. More's signature burger, served alongside a four-tiered cake stand with more condiments than you know what to do with, is renowned around Dubai and certainly hits the spot, as do the 'help yourself' pots of hearty, homemade soup. With works by aspiring artists exhibited on the walls, piles of magazines to flick through and easy jazz in the background, this is a laid-back place to while away the hours on a weekend morning (brunch is available), as well as a great spot for a casual but filling lunch or dinner during the week. Be warned, the portions are huge.
